WEFMAX in Biloxi, MS – Hosted by the Mississippi WEA

March 27 – 29, 2013 | Beau Rivage Resort & Casino | t: 1.888.567.6667

Reserve hotel room by February 16, 2013 | $99.00

Sitting along the shores of Mississippi's Gulf Coast, the city of Biloxi has been a favorite vacation destination for decades, with sandy beaches and calm waters perfect for jet skiing or deep-sea fishing. Having suffered heavy damage during Hurricane Katrina, Biloxi is bouncing back. The casinos and resorts are back in action, offering championship golf and live entertainment. The city has restored many historic sites, including Beauvoir, the home of Confederate president, Jefferson Davis. The word Biloxi means "First People" and was the name of a local Native American tribe met by d'Iberville and his men when they explored the land. Since its discovery, eight flags have flown over the city including the French, English, Spanish, West Florida Republic, Mississippi Magnolia, Confederate State, Mississippi State, and that of the United States. Take time to visit Maritime & Seafood Industry Museum where you can view the exhibits and artifacts relating the story of the seafood industry along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The Mississippi WEA invites you to attend WEFMAX in Biloxi and enjoy the beauty of the gulf coast.
