2026 National Water Policy Fly-In Young Professional Scholarship

Your Voice is Powerful

The scholarship program gives young professionals the opportunity to champion effective water policies and advocate for meaningful federal investment while engaging directly with Congress, federal agencies, and peers from across the country. The program covers registration for the 2026 National Water Policy Fly-In in Washington DC and provides a $1,200 stipend to 16 young professionals to help offset travel, lodging, and food costs. WEF will also award four local scholarships that include registration and a $500 stipend.
