Pre-conference Workshop A, Nonmember

On Suspension Separation
Full-Day Workshop: Tuesday, May 21, 2024 | 8:30 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

This workshop's title and content pay tribute to Allen Hazen's 1904 seminal paper On Sedimentation, generalized to incorporate all suspension separation technologies and efforts to improve the efficiency of these systems. This workshop explores the purpose, history, and fundamentals of wastewater suspension separation, followed by a review of the types of systems applied and efforts to improve the efficiency of these systems. It then discusses suspension separation efficiency improvement or intensification through podium presentations, physical wet demonstrations, and panel discussions. Finally, it concludes with a life-cycle economic analysis of these alternatives and a group discussion of integrating the improved systems into WWRFs.

Lunch will be provided with your registration for this workshop.
