Collection and Use of Information

Through our registration vendor, WEF captures individual information, including contact information and demographics for the purpose of doing business with WEF including:

- Producing badges for access to the Conference event(s)
- Conference surveys and evaluation
- Marketing emails and mailings
- For use in the Conference mobile app

All registrations and payments are exclusively processed on Convention Data Services eReg platform. You can review their privacy policy here: <http://www.cdsreg.com/gdpr-policy/>

Further use of your data:

Attendee Listing

Disinfection and Reuse Symposium Exhibitors would love to connect with you and will have access to attendee information which includes your name, company, address and demographic information.

EU users that have agreed to the data privacy policy, in accordance with General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) policy, during registration but do not wish to have their information shared with Exhibitors may contact us at registration@wef.org. Please note that, should you opt-out but share your information with Exhibitors during the conference, this consent will overrule the original opt-out.

Continuing Education Credits

Attendees may earn Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for participation in Workshops and Technical Sessions. Attendees who want to receive CEUs for participation are required complete an Evaluation form at the conference. Your Certificate will be available after the conference.

Access To And Ability to Correct Data

Upon request, WEF will provide Registrants with a summary of any personally identifiable information retained by WEF during the registration process. Registrants may modify, correct, change, or update personally identifiable information collected through the registration site or may initiate the removal of their personal record from WEF's database by contacting Registration Services at 1-703-684-2471 or by email registration@wef.org.
